Art Unit: 1774

The preliminary amendment filed July 26, 2004, which amends the specification and abstract, and adds claims 51-53, has been entered.

Claims 1-53 are pending.

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-50, drawn to a device, classified in class 428, subclass 690.
- II. Claims 51-53, drawn to a compound, classified in class 585, subclass 26.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Group I and Group II are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because numerous aromatic hydrocarbon materials may be used in the claimed device instead of a compound of Group II. The subcombination has separate utility such as in the light-emitting material of a light-emitting device that does not comprise a phosphorescent emitter.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above, have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1774

An election of species is also required if applicant elects the invention of Group I in response to the preceding restriction requirement. This application contains claims directed to patentably distinct species of devices comprising patentably distinct species of aromatic hydrocarbon material selected from the following:

Materials represented by only one of formulae XIII, XIV, XV, XVI, XVII, XVIII, XIX, XX, XXI, XXII, or XXIII as shown/defined on pages 5-7 of the specification, or represented by different combinations of more than one of these formulae. (As defined, there is some overlap in scope of materials represented by some of formulae XIII-XXIII, such that some ultimate species disclosed in the specification are within the scope of more than one formulae. For example, the compound represented by formula I on page 3 of the specification is within the scope of formulae XIII, XVII and XVIII. As another example, the compound represented by formula II on page 4 of the specification is within the scope of formulae XIV and XVII.)

The species are independent or distinct because the species as defined above do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive, and are not obvious variants.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable (i.e. elect one of XIII-XXIII, or a specific combination thereof). Applicant is also required to select an ultimate species (specific compound) that will be used as the starting point for search and examination purposes. Currently, claims 1, 12 and 14 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Art Unit: 1774

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
